

PONDERING

IMMEMORIAL TO FUTURITY

CENTURIES OLD

Planet Earth would have had a warm and consistence pattern of only one season. Then meteorites bombarded the planet, causing dark thick dense clouds, which circled the earth, blocking the rays and warmth of the sun reaching the planet, creating the first Ice Age. Many years later when the clouds of dust calmed down and settled, the planet was covered by snow and ice, the hardest parts hit were the north and south poles. For millions of years to come, the snow started to melt and rivers started to flow, the forest came back to life, the planet survived.

Climate changed, into four seasons in the northern and southern parts, and most other parts had different weather changes according to their geographical position, and the time of the year. Some areas with more rain were known as the wet season, while other areas the dry season, when heat destroyed all vegetation. Deserts surged in different places of the globe, in other areas the regeneration of the forests caused by the excess of rain, vegetation and life resurrected, how beautiful it must have been!

Evolution through the ages. Now in the 21st century, the most beautiful and intelligent animal the earth produced, discovered the melting of the ice in the north as much as in the south much faster than thought. The cry came out the climate change is real. Seasons are changing, summer is getting warmer, and winter cooler. The highest recorded temperature on Earth is 56.7 centigrade high, and the lowest is -89.2 centigrade.

Will the human species adapt to the weather change and survive or perish? Now at the beginning of the 21st century, in this beautiful world where people have been spending millions of dollars on tourism, humans who have been looking for peace could enjoy the progress they have achieved in different technologies.

The most powerful of all species on earth has managed to produce the most destructive weapons of all times, which are now being used to destroy each other. Is the aim and goal for peace. NO, it's greed power and wealth, with always the excuse of their chosen leaders which are either Emperors, Royals, Dictators, Political leaders, Religious leaders, or Sect leaders of their community, country or nation.

After every war and a lot of damage, then starts the re-building of the destruction they have caused. Wars might have started with stones and rocks, ground war, air war, atomic war, biological, and chemical war, virus war or economic war. All these bring a nation to its knees. Then the battle to survive, selfishness and greed take over. The circle is rejoined. Wealth is back, the country returns to be the most powerful on earth and thinks they have the right to rule over the world with their own fanatical ideology, or power of their arsenal or religious believes.

FUTURITY.

The future is in the hands of our leaders, while the people all over the planet are fighting the Covid-19 virus war. The leaders are having a war of nerves, peace is at an edge, even the media is blamed by some leaders. We hear different sorts of crimes, corruption, enrichment of assets, bribes, selling favors by illicit deals, perpetuated by the politicians who are supposed to give us the good example.

Human survival went through millions of years, we hope it will continue, and will find a solution to satisfy everyone, for a peaceful existence, and enjoy all the goodness this earth has to offer. As the climate is changing at a faster pace than ever before, it must be addressed to help mother nature in its evolution.

Hopefully sanity will prevail, and the leaders will acknowledge the seriousness and the fact to have any hope of peace, is to have a universal agreement by the United Nations.

Leaders of any nation should rule by secularism with no religious fanaticism, or ideologies. Every nation and country have their own laws and rules set by a secular parliament elected democratically, with no discrimination leaving the population to deal with their own beliefs, nevertheless to follow the rule of the land, and live equally with no animosity.

After acquiring all the commodities and peace to satisfy their ego, will they be out looking forward to discover another planet with life, to destroy. That keeps me.

PONDERING

Pierre